

New Sales and Marketing Director at Efficient Air

Efficient Air, a leading provider of HVAC energy saving engineering solutions, has promoted Julian Jowitt to Sales and Marketing Director. As the company's Business Development Manager over the past 3 years he has helped to create a portfolio of products and services to assist organisations meet significant energy and carbon saving targets, including a wide range of audits, surveys and inspections.

“Julian has demonstrated a clear awareness of market needs and how we can best meet them, and his promotion is well earned,” says Chief Executive, Darren Bryant. Prior to joining Efficient Air Julian held a number of senior product management and marketing roles at Toshiba and Carrier.